

Energy and Climate Change: The Churches' role and Voice 10th Assembly of European Christian Environmental Network

European Christian Environmental Network (ECEN) will organise its 10th Assembly on 27 September – 1 October 2014 in Balatonszárszó (Hungary).

Are you interested to join this conference and represent there EYCE and the voices of youth?

The theme of the Assembly will be 'Energy and Climate Change – the Churches' Role and Voice.' The aim of the Assembly is to offer a space for a discussion of recent developments in climate change, in energy & ethics, and to strengthen Churches' engagement and cooperation in responding to these concerns.

The Assembly will start on Saturday, 27 September (arrival day) in the late afternoon and end on Tuesday, 30 September. Departure day is Wednesday 1 October 2014. The board and lodging for the youth participants will be fully covered. A partial contribution towards the travel costs will be also available, the concrete amount to be discussed, depending on actual costs.

If you would like represent EYCE in this conference, please contact us at benjamin.mlynek@eyce.org by 1st September the latest.

To help us to get to know your capacity, please answer the following questions:

European Christian Environmental Network is closely linked with the Conference of European Churches and provides a Europe-wide platform for a cooperation of Churches in responding to challenges in taking care for creation. Through its activities the Conference of European Churches demonstrates its engagement in this particular thematic work. www.ecen.org

The Ecumenical Youth Council in Europe is a Christian platform of youth organisations for young people to meet and share; to pray and celebrate; to learn, lead and act. As a diverse community united in Christ, we are driven by the passion to empower and encourage equal participation in order to transform Europe. EYCE focuses on rising awareness, education and advocacy in the fields of ecology, economic justice, peacebuilding, human rights, interreligious dialogue and youth leadership.
